Experience

PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER, NIKON – 1984-TODAY

Collaborates with national and international magazines for Nikon, witness of the Kurdish exodus and the Ex-Yugoslavia war, of the escape of millions of refugees from Kosovo and the fight of Albania to reach democracy. In Brazil takes a journey to document the "gold-damned of the Sierra Nevada" and the risk of extinction for the Yanomami Indios in Amazonia. In Perù and Bolivia he walks on the traces of the legendary coca-leaf path, while reporting the fight of the "Leopardos", the drug traffickers.

In Africa he was present for the reborn of Rwanda after the genocide and after ten years (1996 and 2006), the forgotten war in Sudan, and the life in the slums in Nairobi.

In south-east Asia he travels in the heart of the "Opium golden triangle", and exposes the tragedy of sexual tourism and A.I.D.S. the plague of child-work, the horrible reality on anti-man mines in Cambodia and acid-disfigured women in Bangladesh.

He visits Chernobyl in the off-limits areas and does a reportage on the journey of hope for thousands of Ukrainian and Belarusian children, hosted in Italy.

In Calcutta he follows the lives of the desperate "horse-men", that survive by bringing every day tons of people on rickshaws.

He witness the tragedy of the Tsunami in Sri Lanka and the heart-breaking goodbye of millions of Catholics to Pope Giovanni Paolo II.

In Benin he follows the path of the "XXI century slaves", young women pushed to prostitution and submission with voodoo rituals.

He collaborates with "Casa della Carità" in Milan, documenting their journeys in Romania, Morocco and Senegal.
